Learning at The Ellis

Golden children 8.12.17

We are so proud of all our GOLDEN Children. Every week we remind all our children to be PROUD of their learning.

The internet and gaming is a great place to learn, but it comes with a warning and a need, as parents, to keep an eye on what our children are accessing. As we head towards Christmas and our children are receiving new games, please make sure they are age appropriate. Here are some useful websites for parents re the internet and gaming.

WWW.askaboutgames.com

Advice on suitable games for your child's age. Remember just like films it is really important that children play age appropriate games.

Parentzone.org.uk

Useful advice on social media

It has been brought to our attention that some KS2 children are playing games that are 18's e.g Call of Duty, guidance says 'PEGI rates Call of Duty Infinite Warfare as PEGI 18, suitable for adults only, for extreme violence, multiple motiveless killing and strong language.'
